

"The prospects for the global fodder production"

During the 15th Russian
Agricultural Exhibition "Golden Autumn 2013"

Moscow, the International Press Centre

THE PROSPECTS OF THE FODDER

I would like to greet the organizers and participants of the forum "The prospects for the global fodder production"!

I'm glad to note that one of the key sectors of the agricultural industry changes positively: the expansion of production of the fodder, pulse and legume crops, annual and perennial grasses, changes in the structure of crop rotations, more efficient use of forage lands, the creation of high-productive artificial hayfields and pastures, qualitative and time-sensitive solutions of gathering, storage and the use of fodder. All this leads to the strengthening of the fodder base, the dynamic development of the livestock production and other sectors of the agribusiness, the ensuring of the country's food security.

At the same time there are still a number of problems requiring for the prompt solution. I am sure that in the course of fruitful discussions the forum members will be able to discuss a wide range of topical issues, to develop interesting propositions, to draw up the guidance for moving forward.

I wish you all the fruitful work, new business contacts, useful and enjoyable meetings!

THE PROSPECTS OF THE FODDER

1

The volume of the Russian fodder market exceeded $2 billion a year.

2

Only in the period of 2008-2012, the Russian market increased by 47%, from 15.1 million tons to 22.2 mln. tons.

3

Russia is one of the Top 10 largest countries in the fodder market and takes 1st place by the annual market growth.

4

Analysts forecast the volume of the Russian market will reach 40 million tons by 2020.

MARKET PROSPECTS OF FEED

In the structure of the Russian fodder market:

83,18 % is occupied by the compound animal feed;

5,43 % - vegan fodder;

2,03 % - ready-made feeds for pets;

0,85 % - protein and vitamin additives;

0,58 % - premixes;

7,94 % - other fodders.

The tasks of the event are to summarize the results of fodder gathering in 2013, solution of questions connected with capacity of the agricultural land, coverage of innovations in the field of agri-environmental security and plant protection, expanding the information field for searching for a more rational approach to the efficient development of the fodder production in the future.

The main themes of the Forum are aimed at attracting investments into the industry, covering the innovations in agri-environmental safety and plant protection, increasing the capacity of the agricultural land and efficient development of fodder production in the future.

TARGET AUDIENCE

At present, the domestic compound feed industry can be divided into three sectors:

"Independent" feed factories (FF), or combines of the cereal products (CCP);

Vertically and horizontally integrated livestock holdings;

Feed factories located in the livestock farms.

The raw material for the compound feed production are:

- 1) Coarse and food grain - barley, oats, wheat, millet, rye, peas, etc.
- 2) waste of industrial production:
 - flour and mill production;
 - butter factories;
 - sugar mills;
 - potato-starch factories;
 - liquor factories and breweries;
 - chemical and microbiological industry.
- 3) Animal origin fodder;
- 4) Rough fodder (hay, straw, crushed corncobs);
- 5) grass meal and meal from wood greens;
- 6) other fodder products;
- 7) mineral fodder;
